 Estimate of Costs

Approximate Costs of Education & Attendance for 2024-2025 (September – April) Please follow the instructions to use the UBC Cost Calculator linked below to determine your cost of attendance (education and living) for the 2024-2025 academic year: Cost calculator: <https://you.ubc.ca/financial-planning/cost/>Select your campus and program>Select the appropriate option for Citizenship>Select the appropriate option for "Where is your permanent home?"Select "On-campus-single room" option for "Where will you be living during the school year? All scholars will be assigned single rooms in UBC Residence. Please select this option for an accurate reflection of your costs.Leave the "Will you have financial support?" box blank to ensure that your sources of financial support are not being double counted in the calculator and on this form. The calculator will provide you with the educational cost amount to enter below. Enter the amount from the "Grand Total" in the space below. International student tuition fees are set by UBC's Board of Governors, and are subject to an annual review.The 2024-2025 tuition fees have not yet been determined and the figures in the calculator are based on the previous year.

 Vantage One Applicants – the costs noted in the cost calculator for Vantage One are for your first year only. From year two onwards, your tuition assessment will be under your Bachelor degree program.

 Declaration of Financial Need

To determine your level of financial need, UBC will look at the costs of your program as estimated below in relation to the contribution you and your family can make towards these costs based on estimations provided in this application. Your net total financial need will be calculated after you complete the steps below. Please review for accuracy.

Cost of attendance

The cost of education and living expenses at UBC ranges from approximately $60000 - $84000 CAD per year. The estimation provided for your degree option should fall within this range. Follow the instructions above to calculate the grand total of your first year living and education costs using the UBC cost calculator link. Once you have your estimation, enter the figure below (do NOT use commas when entering the dollar amount).

Minus

 Total support available as estimated:

 Total amount of financial assistance needed.

This calculation is based on the total support available minus the cost of attendance

Note on costs: Some costs are not included in the calculation of financial need for the International Scholars Award. However, these are costs that you and your family need to consider when planning your budget for study in Canada. These include, but are not limited to the following expenses:

- The travel expenses for your arrival to Canada;
- Fees for a Canadian Study Permit (visa);
- Any medical clearances (examination or certificate fees) that may be required by Canadian immigration;
- Cost of living while staying in Canada during the summer months instead of returning home

(Optional) Additional Comments & Information

You may use this section to share any additional information, or any special circumstances that have impacted or may continue to impact your household, finances, or academic history/education. (Word count max: 200)

 Your Story

Please describe a topic of importance to you, and how it is a reflection of who you are. Why is this topic important to you? (Maximum 300 words)

The International Scholars program takes pride in its community. Describe how you contribute to the well-being of a community that is most important to you. What have you learnt from your experiences? (Maximum 300 words)

Optional question: The International Scholars Program includes awards that recognize outstanding international undergraduate students from impoverished or war-torn areas who have achieved academic excellence under challenging circumstances and hardship, and who would be unable to attend university without significant financial assistance. Do you meet this criteria? Your answer will not impact the application.

Yes

No

Briefly describe the challenges and circumstances that would qualify you for this award. Some examples of hardship may include circumstances such as:

- Part of an internally displaced population.
- Currently reside or have resided in a refugee camp
- From a region of conflict or war-torn area
- Potentially have had education disrupted due to world events
- Facing significant economic challenges due to regional conflict or war Having to move due to safety concerns due to global events

Situations such as a change in academic curriculum, change in language of instruction, or moving countries would not typically qualify. (Maximum 150 words).

Your Vision

How do you envision your chosen program of study at UBC helping you reach your long-term career and personal goals? What drives you to achieve your goals? (Maximum 200 words)

Optional: UBC's collective vision strives to inspire the local and global community to advance sustainability and climate change goals, and shape a campus environment that supports human well-being and equity and inclusion. How does your vision and your chosen program of study relate to this? We are interested in hearing from students who share these interests as they relate to UBC's vision. This question is optional and there will be no impact to your application if left blank. (Maximum 200 words)
